During the academic year 2024-25, several NCC cadets from our college enthusiastically participated in various NCC Special Camps organized at the state and national levels. These camps provided valuable exposure, discipline, and leadership training to the cadets. Cadets attended Annual Training Camps (ATC) where they took part in drill practice, weapon training, map reading, and group discussions aimed at personality development. A few selected cadets represented the college at the All India Village Vibrant Camp, where they interacted with cadets from different regions and showcased cultural presentations promoting national unity.

NSS: Social Impact of Extension Activities (On the Basis of Community Feedback):

Extension activities such as cleanliness drives, health camps, awareness programs, educational support, and environmental initiatives create a positive and measurable impact on the community. Based on community feedback, these activities help improve social behavior, increase awareness, and promote active participation in village development. People report better understanding of hygiene, improved access to educational resources, and enhanced environmental responsibility. Villagers feel more connected to institutions, and youth become more motivated toward education and skill development. The activities also strengthen cultural values, promote unity, and encourage sustainable practices. Overall, community feedback shows that extension activities bring meaningful change, uplift living standards, and support long-term social development.
